

Hands for Larger Service

A JOURNAL DEDICATED TO ACTIVE CITIZENSHIP IN YOUR COMMUNITY.

Leadership: Respect and Understanding

One of the most important qualities for a leader to have is respect for those they lead. If one does not respect the group they are leading, then followers will turn their backs on their leader. To make a positive impact on a group, you must respect them by listening to their needs and understanding their point of view. With respect and understanding, progress will be made, relationships will be stronger, and the community will be a better place to live.

4-H CITIZENSHIP

R-E-S-P-E-C-T...Find out what it means to me!

Each person may have different needs when it comes to respect and understanding. As Fair approaches, it is important for your Community Club to have a mutual understanding of the needs of individuals and the group as a whole. This month, sit in a circle and allow each member a moment to share what they need from their peers and leaders to feel respected and understood as you prepare over the next few months for a potentially stressful week at Fair. A little respect goes a long way!
