The FFA & 4-H Market Animal Auction is a terminal sale and all animals will go to slaughter.

Auction Rules:

Rules for auction animals must be followed. All situations giving evidence of rule violations before or after slaughter can result in removal of animal from the auction, forfeit of auction proceeds, and/or awards being withheld as determined by the Auction Committee and/or Show Committee. Consult the fair week Auction Catalog/Buyers Guide for additional auction rules. The Auction Committee will be held harmless during tagging, moving, or transporting of animals at pre-fair weigh-ins, fair weigh-in or during the fair, auction, or final destination to packing plants.

1. 2024: A Quality Assurance Form is required for all market animals; weigh-in registration forms will be used for all species. The market animal auction is a terminal sale and all auction animals will go to slaughter.

All fitting products must be washed off the animal using only a livestock approved shampoo (no conditioner) by Friday at 10:00 p.m. No fitting products can be used on any auction animal between Friday at 10:00 p.m. through the loading of market animals on Sunday morning. Evidence of fitting products being applied on an animal will disqualify the animal from the auction.
3. All potential market animals must have been owned by the 4-H or FFA member, be in possession, carry an official ear tag, have all horns and scurs removed on steers, sheep and goats and be recorded on the Jefferson County Livestock Association's weigh in sheet by official tagging/possession date. Official tagging/possession/weigh-in dates are: steers, February 3rd, 10:00 a.m. - Noon at Central Oregon Livestock Auction; sheep, swine and goats, May 15th, 4:00 - 6:00 p.m. at the Jefferson County Fairgrounds; and rabbits and chickens, June 18th, 4:30-5:00 p.m. at Central Oregon Ag Research Center. All market animals sold at the Jefferson County Fair will be tagged on the above prescribed dates.

Steers must have a halter on before they will be unloaded at the possession facilities.
